

SPORTS BEFORE THE EYES

By NORMAN CARDON

Rah, Rah, Girls...
It's about co-ed cheerleaders, and a co-ed started me on it. It seems she wanted to be a cheerleader. I told her McGill didn't have co-ed cheerleaders. She wanted to know why. And that's what got me started.

The Reasons, viz...
McGill is in the centre of a metropolis. It isn't so much a question of what is "ladylike" and what isn't. It is more a matter of what would go over and what would be out of place. McGill is not the dominant part of a college town. In Kingston, for instance, there is a lot of rah-rah spirit. Freshmen promenade in tams and ride about in multicoloured cars. That's in Kingston. And it is fitting that they have co-ed cheerleaders there. Two of them. One is a delightful blonde, the other is a blonde. And herein lies a problem. You have to get the right kind of co-ed.

There is also a co-ed who reads the sports page. Co-eds want a lot of funny things. This one wants to play six-man football. She used to play football in her youth. Now she wants to make a comeback. There's only one thing she can't understand. Six-man football is a part of intramural sports. Now this co-ed studied Latin and she knows that the word "intramural" signifies something that is carried on between walls. So she is unable to understand how football can be played inside a room. There are still some people who don't know the difference between intramural and indoor sports.

For Newspapermen Only...
Coins sometimes stand on edge. One of the smaller big shots on the "Daily" was once a reporter. His first assignment was a water-polo game between McGill and M.A.A.A. And he was quite enthusiastic. Reporters will do almost anything to please an editor, so while watching the game this reporter composed two suitable heads. One was to be used if McGill won, the other if they lost. Right. It was a draw.

Go West, Young Sap...
There is a first-year Med student who isn't so happy about the football game tomorrow. He is in a predicament. It seems that at the Toronto tilt two weeks ago he asked a girl to the Western game. But he got his dates mixed up. He told her the game was this week-end. Now McGill does play the Mustangs tomorrow, but it happens to take place up in London. So the Med student can do one of two things. (1) He can stand at the corner of Peel and St. Catherine with coloured glasses on his eyes until he collects enough for two round-trip tickets to London, or (2) He can suddenly develop a bad attack of cottony thrombosis. In his case I think the second is a better idea.

Deep Purples...
But if the student does go up to London he should see quite a battle. Unless it rains. Because (Continued on Page Four)

Action of Senate Opposed By Representative Students

Opinions Voiced Last Night Show Widespread Opposition to Team's Withdrawal From League

A query made last night among the members of different student groups interested in the Senate's action of withdrawing the McGill Senior Hockey Team from the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association shows wide dissatisfaction with the move. Statements made by members of the Students' Athletic Council, players on the Senior Hockey Team, and representatives on the Students' Executive Council appear below.

At its last meeting, the Athletics Council favoured continuation in the League. The Athletics Manager was requested to ascertain in writing the views of the players themselves regarding participation, so that the Athletics Board would have grounds on which to base their discussion. The latter body decided, by majority vote, "to continue in the League for the present session." The Chairman stated that the matter would have to be referred to the Senate.

The Senate's resolution, which was published on Wednesday, reads in part: "Be it resolved that it is deemed unwise for students of the University to participate in this season's scheduled games conducted under the jurisdiction of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association."

ATHLETICS COUNCIL

"For personal reasons, I would like to see the Hockey Team back in the Q.A.H.A. There are reasons for and against the stand taken by the Senate. If the Senate feels that there are sufficient reasons to cancel McGill's participation in the league, they, no doubt, have acted wisely."

"Is the Senate afraid that the team is going to lose?"

"The Q.A.H.A. is the best training ground the players have."

"I am in favour of getting hockey back if we can. It provides us with games for entertainment and we have nothing to lose by it. The Athletics Board and the Athletics Council have weighed the matter carefully and were certainly correct in their decision to keep the team in the Senior League insofar as their power permits."

"The ice is hired and intercollegiate games are only a quarter of the total number McGill would play if they were to enter the Q.A.H.A. too. We will use, therefore, only a fourth of the facilities which we are paying for."

"The secession of the hockey team is nothing more than a foolish attempt to show the loyalty of the country."

"This act will lessen the morale rather than aid military training which the players, for the most part, had no desire to undertake anyway, I understand."

SENIOR HOCKEY TEAM

"I sincerely believe that it would be a mistake to drop out of the Senior Hockey Group for the following reasons: the calibre of the team would undoubtedly go down; once conditions righted themselves it would be very hard to get back into the group; interest in hockey at McGill would be lessened; and further, the amount of time that Senior Group Hockey takes over and above the intercollegiate is not very great since the practices are held even if only one league is played in."

"It is only through the strong competition which the team receives in the Senior Group that it has been superior in stamina and ability to those of the other members of the C.I.A.U."

"I believe that the players can adjust the present circumstances in regard to study and C.O.T.C."

"The event of my playing would in no way interfere with my studies."

"I am not sure whether I will be able to play hockey in the Senior Group this winter. However, if the team chooses to play in the Senior Group, and I hope that they do, I will do my best to see if I can find time to play with them if they want me to."

"I can't see why the interests of the other players and of hockey in general should be sacrificed because of sports activity is a poor (Continued on Page Four).

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

The statement of Russell R. Merfield, President of the Students' Society, reads: "In view of the conditions which have arisen with regard to athletic control at McGill, a committee will be appointed to look into the matter and to submit recommendations to the Society as to the proper action which should be taken."

The attitudes of other members of the Students' Council was expressed in the following quotations: "Military training is as yet optional in Canada. Since the right of self-determination is still retained by the individual in our supposedly pressing war effort, I feel that a willing hockey team, with the support of an enthusiastic student body, should decide for themselves whether or not a Senior Group Hockey schedule would interfere with any military activities in which they might otherwise have engaged."

"It does seem obvious that the Senate, in removing the team from this league, against the advice of the Athletics Board, has transgressed the rights of student government which is such a desirable feature of university life at McGill."

"The Athletics Board is the body duly authorized to administer student sports and is naturally in the best position to know what the students want. Furthermore, restriction on sports activity is a poor (Continued on Page Four).

HEADS SHIPPING

SIR EDWARD BEATTY, Chancellor of McGill University and head of the Canadian Pacific, has just been appointed representative in Canada of the British Ministry of Shipping.

BEATTY GIVEN SHIPPING POST

British Ministry Announces Appointment Today

Chancellor Holds Same Position As Lord Shaughnessy in 1914

It was announced in London and Ottawa today that Sir Edward Beatty, Chancellor of McGill University, has been appointed "Ministry of Shipping Representative for Canada."

Sir Edward, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Company, will undertake duties similar to those of Lord Shaughnessy, who held the position during the Great War. His responsibility, as Shipping Representative, will be to look after the interests of British shipping in Canadian ports, and to facilitate chartering and other shipping arrangements for vessels carrying Government or Government controlled cargoes to this country. Sir Edward stated, however, that these new duties will not interfere with his duties as president of the Canadian Pacific.

About three weeks ago Sir Edward Beatty was appointed representative in Canada of the British Board of Trade, but when, recently, certain duties of the board were transferred to the Shipping Ministry, his earlier appointment was superseded by that of representative to the Ministry.

BOVEY TO ADDRESS NEWMANITES SUNDAY

Colonel Wilfred Bovey, Director of External Relations of McGill University will be the guest speaker on Sunday morning when the members of the Newman Club here hold their regular meeting in Congress Hall, 454 Dorchester St. W. The meeting will follow the usual 10 o'clock Mass which the members attend.

A Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, Col. Bovey is the author of two books on French Canada, "Canadianism" and "The French Canadians Today." On Sunday he will discuss the students' responsibility at the present time of crisis.

The Newman Club is McGill's Catholic Club and all students of that faith are automatically members.

FRESHMEN - FRESHETTE STUDY GROUP TO MEET

The first meeting of the "So You're At College" Group for Freshmen and Freshettes, organized by the S.C.M., will take place in Strathcona Hall today at 5 o'clock. At the first meeting of this discussion group, topics will be decided and among the present possibilities are such subjects as: fitting into College; the use of time; men, women and romance; how should the war affect me?

Groups of this type have been held at the University of British Columbia and the committee in charge felt the need of such a group in McGill University to cope with current Freshmen and Freshette problems.

McGILL, WAR, AND HOCKEY

An Editorial

When students returned from their holidays they found a McGill that was partially organized to meet the heavy demands that the present troubled times are bound to make on its resources. The University, through its Chancellor, pledged its complete support to the Dominion Government. On the other hand, the students were assured that they would be given the opportunity of obtaining advice as to how they could use their ability for the greatest individual contribution towards winning the War.

There were two definite courses of action open to the students. They might register with the University as to their ability so that McGill's "resources" might be known, they might enlist with the Officers' Training Corps. Or they might even do both. The voluntary registration of students was successfully handled by the Students' Executive Council. The Training Corps has 1,000 men in its ranks.

The Senate has now declared that the students can no longer participate in one of the main athletic series of the year. The Senate heard the decisions of the Students' Athletics Council, and the Athletics Board. Is it possible that the adding machine used in tabulating the sum total of the various opinions for and against a hockey team made some miscalculation?

HONOR PHYSICIANS' DAY

Hold Service at St. George's Church on Sunday

Next Sunday, October 22, coming within the octave of St. Luke, the Physician's Day, will be observed as Medical Sunday at St. George's Church, Dominion Square. For the last ten years this observance has had the approval and support of the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Society.

Dr. H. R. Clouston of Huntington, P.Q., will deliver the address at the 11 a.m. service. Lessons will be read by Dr. W. W. Francis, Custodian Ostler Library, McGill University, and Dr. George Hall, Vice-President of the Chirurgical Society. Medical men will act as sidesmen for that service.

A hearty invitation is extended to all associated professions and friends. Evening Services will be held to which all McGill students are invited.

GAZETTE TOURS

The tour of The Gazette composing-room and printing press which was to have been held next Tuesday will be postponed to Wednesday evening. Another tour will be held on Thursday. Daily reporters can sign lists in the Daily office.

REDMEN LEAVE FOR LONDON TO PLAY MUSTANGS

League Leadership Depends On Outcome of Game

PERRY FOSTER OUT

Mustangs Confident They Will Win By Big Margin

By SYD WAGNER.
(Daily Sports Writer.)

After a week of strenuous practice the McGill Senior Grid-ers will travel to London where they encounter the powerful squad from the University of Western Ontario. The game which takes place on tomorrow afternoon will be a crucial contest for both squads, since the Redmen have already lost one game and another loss would be a serious blow to their chances of retaining the title. On the other hand the Mustangs have not held a title since 1932 and although for several years they had a seemingly championship team so that they will not take any chances with the Redmen, in their drive to win over last year's champs.

The McGill squad looked good in their tilt with the Tricolor last week and will be further enhanced in tomorrow's game by the addition of two star linemen in the persons of Howie Bartram and Ben Stevenson. The hard hitting Alec Hamilton, captain of the Redmen will again handle the kicking chores, but it seems that the McGill squad cannot evade injuries and this time Greenwood the efficient snaphack of the first line is out with a knee injury.

Tabah Out

Ernie Tabah, one of the few veterans of last year's team and at all times a hard working lineman will not make the trip to London as a nose injury will keep him on the sidelines. Perry Foster who may be back next week still finds it hard to move his back freely since he sustained a kidney injury in the Varsity tilt two weeks ago.

The only remaining regular who is to miss the trip is Chuck Smith who has played a hard plunging game so far this year, but a very bad knee will keep him out.

As far as could be determined the general consensus of opinion was that it would be a pretty evenly divided game and that the J. W. Little Memorial Stadium would be the scene of great activity as the Purple and White squad turn out to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Redmen.

A few of the Intermediates will turn out to fill gaps in the senior line-up, although Dave Withrow is to be moved over to snaphack position George Muttiebury of the Seconds will make the trip. Other Intermediates to go along will be Ricky Read and Errol Smith.

WESTERN CONFIDENT

By LES WHEABLE.
(Sports Editor, W. O. Gazette.)
Winners of their first two games by overwhelming margins, the league-leading Western Mustangs entertain McGill Redmen at the J. W. Little Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon. The Western team, having shaken the jinx of the Varsity Bowl which has dogged them since 1931, are hot on the trail of the battered Yates Cup, a mug they have not won since that year. The Purple, in two games have rolled up a total of 55 points with 22 scored against them, and the Western powerhouse expects to continue the march at the expense of McGill.

SPEED REQUESTED IN CONTRIBUTING

Returns Below Those of Last Year As Campaign Nears End

The Federated Charities Drive continues on its way as returns come slowly in. Chairman Viner again stated last night that the drive is not progressing as rapidly as it should.

Thermometers denoting the progress of the drive in each faculty are to be found in all the buildings on the campus. As yet, with the exception of one or two faculties, the red lines representing the returns are not as high as they might be, but rapid gains are expected by the Chairman and executive.

Since the Drive ends Wednesday, October 25, students are urged to bring in their contributions as quickly as possible. Canvassers particularly are asked to contact the students on their list at the earliest possible opportunity.

In a recent interview Chairman Bill Viner appealed to each student to contribute as much as he possibly could since the success of the Drive depends on the generosity of each student.

I.R.C. OPENS YEAR WITH LAURENDEAU

Quebec's Relation to Canadian War Policy to Be Discussed Today

The International Relations Club will start this session's series of meetings at 5 p.m. today in the Union Music Room, when Andre Laurendeau will discuss the present political situation in this province and its relation to Dominion affairs, under the heading "Quebec and Canada's War Policy."

Mr. Laurendeau, now author of "L'Action Nationale," is also a member of many youth organizations and is in close touch with the opinions of the young French Canadians of the province. He attended the C. S. A. Regional Conference held in Ottawa last March, participating in the Conference as a group leader on national unity. He also took part in the Winnipeg Conference of Canadian Youth Congress in July.

Today, Mr. Laurendeau will suggest the possible outcome of current electoral campaigns and will estimate its effect on national unity and the Dominion's war policy.

The International Relations Club on this campus is one of 650 such organizations in universities and colleges in various parts of the world, all sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Around The Globe

No Aid Promised To Finns

Stockholm, October 19.—Finland learned today that she can expect no military support from her three Scandinavian neighbours, Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The Danish Minister, Peter Munch, stated that the small states are powerless to halt the present war—Norway and Denmark are practically without military means, while Sweden, too, has neglected both her land and naval forces.

Sign Anglo-Turk Pact

London, October 19.—Great Britain scored a diplomatic victory today as Turkey, key nation among the Balkans, joined with England and France by signing a 15-year mutual assistance pact. In the event of armed aggression the pact binds the three signatories to come to each other's aid. Significantly, the pact stipulates that Turkey is not required to fight Russia.

French Withdraw Into Own Borders

Paris, October 19.—French troops have withdrawn as much as six miles along the 22-mile section of the Western Front's northern flank, it was announced by the French high command tonight. Losses were "very light" in the withdrawal, it was reported. The retreat brings the French forces back to their own borders, as the advances were never more than seven miles.

The Chancellor's Birthday Present

Our Chancellor has been appointed the Canadian representative for the British Ministry of Shipping. He will now be occupied in all matters concerning the requirements and the chartering of ocean shipping between Canada and Great Britain for the duration of the war. He will assume these duties in addition to being President of the world's largest transportation system, and the running of a university. The appointment, which, of necessity, involves a great amount of executive work in these troubled times, is truly a fitting recognition of the ability of our Chancellor and for what he has done for Canada. It is a suitable "birthday present."

Artsmen, Vote Today!

Today marks the first election in the Faculty of Arts and Science this session; a representative must be chosen to sit on the Students' Executive Council from now until the end of December, while class officers must be elected by men of the three upper years in the faculty.

Wednesday night's meeting of the Arts Undergraduate Society was a fiasco, as far as attendance is concerned; let us not have a half-hearted election today; there is no reason why every Arts and Science student should not exercise his franchise, and dispel the growing conviction in the minds of many that faculty spirit in Arts is dead.

RADIO FLASHES

Dupleixis Ousts Wagner.

The music of Richard Wagner, the artistry of the American dramatic soprano Helen Traubel, and the playing of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra under John Barbirolli will have to bow to the forthcoming Quebec provincial election as far as radio time in Montreal Sunday afternoon is concerned. The celebrated orchestra is to present an all-Wagner program dedicated to the memory of Lawrence Gilman, the late music critic of the New York Herald Tribune, which is to be broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System. However, advices from CKAC, the local Columbia outlet, indicate that the Sunday afternoon period normally devoted to the Philharmonic will this week be employed for speeches in the election campaign. The station emphasizes that the Philharmonic broadcasts will be resumed the following week.

Current Events.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has scheduled a series of commentaries and interpretations of news events by acknowledged experts, in an effort to keep its listeners up to date with respect to the war situation and conditions resulting therefrom. A group of talks under the title "The World Today" (Sundays, 6:30-6:45 C.B.M.) will feature such speakers as Dr. H. L. Stewart, Professor of Philosophy at Dalhousie; B. K. Sandwell, editor of the Toronto Saturday night; Gratton O'Leary, editor of the Ottawa Journal; Edgar McInnis of the history department at the University of Toronto; and Dr. R. O. MacFarlane of the history department at the University of Manitoba.

Raymond Gram Swing will interpret political events on the American scene fortnightly on Saturdays at 7:45. The CBC hopes to be able to alternate these broadcasts with speeches direct from London. A further series of topical programs, "Mid-week Commentaries" (Wednesdays at 10:30) will feature experts on international affairs.

Toronto Symphony.

On its first broadcast concert of the current season (Tuesday at 10—CBM) the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, under Sir Ernest MacMillan, will have as guest soloist the Canadian pianist Ernest Scit. The broadcast portion will consist of the Concerto No. 1 in E Minor and the Military Polonaise in A, both by Chopin.

On Tuesday at 11:15 a.m. (CBM) the CBC will take its listeners behind the scenes at the dress rehearsal of the Toronto Symphony for its broadcast of the same night. The audience will have an opportunity to hear the conductor and the network producer giving instructions to the members of the orchestra.

Toscanini's Broadcasts.

For his second concert of the season with the NBC Symphony Orchestra, Arturo Toscanini will present as the most important feature in the first American performance of "Die Nacht," an orchestral suite by George Templeton Strong. The following Saturday the maestro will open his series of Beethoven broadcasts with the Symphony No. 1 in C Major.

Here And There.

The McGill-Western football game at London will be broadcast tomorrow at 2:15 over C.B.M. Reg. Grant will give the play-by-play description. . . . With Helen Hayes as guest star, Orson Welles will present a radio version of the play "Liliom" by the Hungarian dramatist, Ferenc Molnar (Sunday at 8—CKAC). . . . James Melton, American tenor, will be the soloist on the Sunday Evening Hour (Sunday at 8—CKAC). . . . On Wednesday, October 26, at 7, 8, 9, and 10 p.m. on the hour, CBM will give the results of the Quebec elections as received from the Canadian Press. E. G.

AT THE CHEZ MAURICE

Heading a cast of divers and good entertainers Rachel Carley at the Chez Maurice provides night-outers with some sparkling singing. Miss Carley besides singing the songs puts them over so well with her personality that her voice is almost superfluous. But it isn't for it definitely enhances her wide selection of numbers ranging from the sad to the happy and gay "Are You Having Any Fun?" She is well-accompanied by Jack Bain and his orchestra.

Also on the same program are the "Flying Aces" a novelty skating team that have worked out some tricky routines. And for a thrill that is like unto a roller-coaster try being whirled by one of the members of the "Flying Aces."

The singing of Dorothy Johnson is good, but better than that is her accompaniment of herself first on the guitar and then on the clarinet. She seems like a budding Benny Goodman on that instrument.

Rounding out the program is a comedy dance team and the regular chorus of girls who have been well trained.

THE FRESHMAN'S FATE

The freshman, dazzled by new freedom's sight, His awkward way about the campus wends, And prays that somewhere he may find a light To set him straight before his first year ends.

Like fishermen, do leering seniors troll To lure the frosh from off his narrow course. Pity this uninitiated soul; His studious purpose "clubbed" from him with force.

On saddest plight—that of the freshman green When one so young must live a life so fast; But lose not hope, for soon a life serene Will make you wish these first few weeks would last.

CONTEST

"The Women's Only"

The McGill Daily in conjunction with M.G.M. and the Loew's Theatre will hold a contest during the first three days of next week based on the picture, "The Women" which is reviewed below. As prizes for the most interesting comments on controversial issues raised by the picture such as, "What type of woman does today's college student want to marry?" and "How to hold a husband," pairs of guest tickets to Loew's good for one month beginning November 1, will be awarded. Hand in efforts (of under fifty words) at the Union Tuck Shop for The Contest Editor before Tuesday at six o'clock.

PREVIEW OF "THE WOMEN"

Though top honors must be given to Norma Shearer for truly fine performance as "Mary Haines" in M.G.M.'s interpretation of "The Women," bouquets can be thrown in the general direction of the entire cast and production staff. Impossible though it may seem to those who viewed the stage show here last season, the screen version of Clare Boothe's play was, in this reviewer's opinion, even more entertaining.

Considered by most critics as being one of the funniest plays to hit Broadway in several seasons, "The Women" builds around the story of Stephen and Mary Haines a clever and amusing answer to the oft asked question: "What do women talk about when they're alone?" Now that we know (and few females who have seen the picture deny the truth of its portrayal), most men have sworn off of 'em for good. Even a bull session of Sopsis can't be quite as bad!

The picture, which very cleverly, was directed so that the masculine presence is ever felt, in spite of the fact that the cast is all-female, is a laugh-fest from newswire to short-subject with the exception of the serious scenes required for the continuity of the story. However, it is indeed unfortunate that a director sufficiently astute and skilled in his art to add such masculine touches as Stephen's smoking jacket, pipe, etc., with which Norma Shearer fondly plays in several scenes, should even consider sending his hero and heroine on a trip to "Canada"—evidently some little spot north of Maine.

Briefly the picture relates the story of Mary Haines, a member of the wealthy and party New York Society class, develops her marital difficulties which culminate in a divorce when her girl friends headed by gossip Rosalind Russel (her prototype in the opening scenes of the picture is a Cat) discover that her husband is "romancing" a sirenish salesgirl, Joan Crawford.

Upon this framework, Clare Boothe has built up a series of scenes in which representatives of various classes and types of females appear in all their native habitats in hilariously developed sequences—Park Avenue apartments, beauty salons, nightclubs, fashion shows and a divorcee ranch in Reno. Among the characters are dowagers, debutants, countesses, cowgirls and housewives all at their best—and their worst—talking about themselves.

Some of the better crack's appear below:

"The only way for a girl to win her man is in his arms."

"A woman's compromised the day she's born."

"I made him pay for what he wants. . . . you (his wife) made him pay for what he doesn't want."

—J. L. G.

GRABBERWOCHY

Twass Denzig and the Swastikoves
Did hell and hittle in the reich,
All nazi were the lindengroves
And the neuraths julestreich.

"Beware the Grabberwoch, my son,
The plans that spawn, the plots that hatch!
Beware the jewew bird, and shun
The fuhrious Bundesnach!"

He took his aryan horde in hand,
Long time the Gestapo he taught,
Then rested he by the Baltic sea
And stood awhile in thought.

And as a Polish oath they swore,
The Grabberwoch with lies aflame,
Came goering down the corridor,
And goebelled as it came.

Ein Zwei! Ein Zwei! one in the eye
For Polaks folk alas, slack,
He left them dread and as their head
He came meinkamplering back.

"And hast thou la'en thy lebensraum?
Come to my arms, my rhenish boy!
A grabious day 'Seig Heil, be gay!' He strengthened in his joy.

Twass Denzig and the Swastikoves
Did hell and hittle in the reich,
All nazi were the lindengroves
And the neuraths julestreich.

—MICHAEL BARSLEY (Time and Tide.)

When the Colonel took a notion
To fly the bloomin' ocean,
He little could have known the awful fact
That a fellow's head gets bloated
When his words can not be quoted
And the repertorial brain must needs be racked.

There are bound to be smooth lotions
That will give the ego notions
And grease the wheels for medals and such things,
Don't blame him if it stiffens
When the girls at English tiffins
Are rapturous and adoring of his wings.

Yet an eagle is most striking
When he's pictured as a Viking,
Not when acting as his native land's advisor
For the owl imparts no wisdom
But instead implies he has some
And in doing so he's coupled much the wiser.

Elections

To the Editor of the McGill Daily.
Sir—I would like to thank those who nominated me for the presidency of fourth year R.V.C. I shall try to carry out the duties to the best of my ability.

RUTH PAINE.

To the Editor of the McGill Daily.
Sir—May I through the medium of the Daily thank those who nominated and supported me in the recent elections. I appreciate the honour of my position, and I shall try to fill the office to the best of my ability.

Yours sincerely,

FRANCES COX.

Cheering.

To the Editor of the McGill Daily.
Sir—Much has been said about co-operation between the cheer leaders and the student section at the football games; little has been done. It would be a grave mistake to place the blame for the existing condition upon either group. The student body certainly has enough enthusiasm, as is frequently exhibited by individual loud cheering and joking. The cheer leaders do know the motions and the words of the cheers, but their fault lies in quantity of cheers rather than in quality. The underlying trouble is the lack of a co-operative spirit between leaders and students. This spirit is difficult to muster on the field, particularly if the student section is depressed by a trailing score. This co-operative understanding can only come as a result of preparation and rehearsal. We have a proposition which we believe may remedy the present ill.

It has long been the custom of leading universities, particularly American, to prepare for the games by football rallies during the previous week. At these rallies, the cheer leaders run through their cheers, exhibiting the various motions which they will use on Saturday.

Since the motions are the only cues to the cheering section, a firm relationship between word and motion should be established in the student's mind. This can be successfully accomplished at a mass meeting. Upon first sight, such an idea might appear to be untenable, for how and where could hundreds of students gather together to practise cheers? The place: The Union Ballroom. The time: Any evening convenient to the majority. The entire student body need not participate; this would be impracticable. A few hundred determined students, knowing the cheers perfectly, could form the nucleus which would expand to appreciable proportions at the game. This is not idle sentiment. We have a good team; we have a poor cheering section, which is potentially excellent. Time is passing rapidly; we must act promptly.

Yours truly,

J. H. MOORE.

COLLEGE COOKING.

Drinking from one to ten cokes a day is as much a part of college life as saddle shoes and finals. The coke custom is the American collegiate substitute for afternoon tea, it is the excuse for relaxation and conversation. Everyone orders a coke, plain or flavored, usually from lack of originality, force of habit, or because it's his favorite drink.

Campus "jelly joints" cater to this nickel trade from breakfast time to closing hours. Loud music from the nickelodeon, the smell of frying hamburgers, the ever-present nickel machines, and trays full of cigarette butts characterize these gathering places.

After a hard morning in the classroom, the booth-dwellers return to their habitat feeling at ease with the familiar wooden support behind them. No true "jellier" ever sits at a table in the middle of the floor, only booths give them that protected feeling.

Campus slang originates over a quiet afternoon coke. Date expenses are cut to a minimum by the easily arranged coke date. Politics and reputations are daily run through this college gossip mill.

If every nickel spent coking were put in a pig-bank by each college student, college would be a much less amusing place.—Baylor University Daily.

Redmen Seek Track Title At Varsity

RED FRESHMEN TACKLE LOYOLA

Coach Markham Considers Team Overconfident

Loyola Team Fast—Pare Heavy Plunger and Passer

On Saturday afternoon the McGill Freshman Team will meet the highly-rated Loyola College. The game will be played at the latter's home grounds, and will begin at 2:30 p.m. To date the Red Team have won one and lost one while the Loyola gridders have won both their starts.

The home team made up of high school graduates, who have played together for the past four years, average about 180 pounds on the line. The team will be built around Dick Pare, who weighs about 200 pounds. Pare has been passing and plunging for his squad for the past three years, and has been a triple-threat man in the past two games. The backfielders are exceptionally fast, and their passing attack will require much careful guarding.

Coach Wally Markham says the team will win if they go into the game with the same spirit they had when they defeated the Aggies. Their overwhelming defeat at the hands of Bishop's was attributed to their overconfidence after their first victory. This has apparently been knocked out of them in the practices, and when the team takes to the field tomorrow, it is hoped that they will have the same fighting spirit as their older brothers in the senior section.

The team will be led by Captain Hugh Norwood, who will be called upon to do the kicking. Other members of the team will be: Quarterback, Turner, former member of the Trinity College squad; Port Hope, Ontario; Simpson and Woods will start off at middle; Finley and Gibson will be the probable starters at outside wing; Levesque will be in the upside-down position; and as yet the rest of the team has not been selected.

The members of the team are to report at the field-house Molson's Stadium at 12:30. The squad will dress and leave for Loyola by bus at 1:30.

Although the Loyola team has been rated as the best in the past four years, Coach Wally Markham expects that if the Red Freshmen enter the fray with plenty of pep and enthusiasm, they can come out on the right end of the score.

Prospects Shape Well; More Fencers Needed

The Fencing Club met for its first practice under the new coach, Monsieur Leuchter, who succeeded M. Bieau. The Old Guard represented by Irv. Smith, Jack Hermann, and Dave Hayland was out in full force along with Doug. Kelly, who was kept off last year's senior team because of a neck injury. This year's team should be very strong with so much material to choose from. There is a rumour that Terry Leslie, who used to fence with North Branch, will be out this year, so watch out for your laurels Senior team. Several other familiar faces were to be seen as well but the most interesting were the newcomers.

This subject of newcomers is a very important one, for each year about a dozen new fencers start with the club. Some stay, some don't. For the first lesson on equipment will be necessary out a pair of rubber-soled shoes. Later you will find that you want to buy a foil, cost about $2.50, but that is all you need; masks and jackets can be borrowed from the club. There is plenty of room for freshmen or other aspiring swordsmen. The club meets at the Strathcona School, which is on Jeanne Mance Street between Prince Arthur and Pine, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at five.

The P.O.F.A. is hoping to get its league started about the first of November. McGill probably will enter three teams, as in the past, and everyone gets a chance to be on these teams. It is doubtful if the "B" league will operate this year, hence the B and C teams will be in the "A" League.

The R.V.C. fencers are hoping to get started by the end of the month and are expecting as good a turn out as last year.

Collegiate Tracksters to Meet at Toronto Today

Field Events in Morning — Court-right Out

Today at Toronto the strong McGill Intercollegiate Track Team will make a bid for the Intercollegiate Championship which has been the Blueboys' possession for the past two years. The meet will start in the morning with the field events and continue on into the afternoon when the track events are run off. It will be remembered that last year the Redmen were noosed out by a mere two points when every one was under the impression that Varsity would walk away with the meet. Therefore it is expected that with practically the same squad as last year plus the recent additions of Frank Cleary and Kirschloger who have both proven to be star track material, that the senior tracksters will return with the Tait McKenzie Trophy which is emblematic of the championship and which for so many years rested within the confines of the McGill Union.

Queens Weak.
The meet this year will, once more, be a fight between the Varsity Blueboys and the McGill Redmen, for all indications point to a weaker team from Queens. The Tricolor is without the services of Jimmy Courtright who broke his ankle in a mine accident during the summer. Last year Courtright picked up thirteen points in field events and his loss is a severe blow, however the track team has shown some improvement and with Fritz their Olympic entry the Tricolor hope to place first in about three or four events.

Although the Queens' squad are not conceded much of a chance to win, yet the events in which they place can have a marked effect on the other entries. It is therefore informative to glance at the results of their Interfaculty Track Meet, in which three records tumbled and the mile event was run in just two seconds over the record. Bill Fritz is entered in the 440 and 550 and in the relay; while the Tricolor have placed no entries in the shot put or in the hurdles.

Toronto Optimistic.
The team from the Queen city will only sport half of their last year's squad which took the title for the second straight time. The remainder of the team is to consist of newcomers to the senior track scene and among them are four freshmen. All advice from Toronto seem to be very optimistic about the team's chances. Harold Brown is expected to take the 100 yard dash, while the brothers Lloyd and Bob Delaney, Reg Kaylor and Finlayson are counted on to be heavy point winners.

And now we survey this year's Red aggregate which is captained by Lloyd Cooke who will run in the 880, the mile and the three-mile events and if past indications are right he ought to pick up several points. Another potent entry is Vaughn Mason, who will be a strong threat in the short distance events. The squad this year will also have Moskowitz in the hurdles who defeated John Loaring last year, furthermore the Redmen have several men who can place in most of the events and these extra points will probably decide the fate of the meet.

In the field events the McGill team will also be contenders in all departments with Walker and Kussane being heavily counted upon. Last year the points in the field events were in favour of the Redmen by a 33-25 margin. In the Interfaculty Track Meet Kussane registered 49 3/4" in the shot put event and is expected to star in the field events.

The complete list of the McGill team is as follows—Broad Jump: Walker, Percival and Bryant; Javelin Throw: Owens, Hughes and Walker; Shot Put: Kussane, Hughes and Walker; 160 and 220 yards: Mason, Graul and Moskowitz; 440 yards: Mason, Borsman, and Purdie.

With the Women's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament looming very large on the horizon the R.V.C. girls are doing all they can to get their annual singles and doubles matches finished up. The singles "A" finals will probably be played at the beginning of next week. The exact date will be announced in Monday's Daily, in order that the finalists, Ana Denton and Rosette Renshaw, may be encouraged by the support of an audience. The "B" journey is about to enter into its semi-finals. Due to unfavorable weather conditions the doubles have been considerably retarded, and are in their third round.

The Coed Bow-benders are all ready for the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery Meet to be held tomorrow from 10-12 a.m. The following girls who have shown marked ability in handling their bows and arrows will represent the College: Dorothy Boyce, Myrtle Minto, Allison Cole, Margery Gaunt, Irene Smith, Frances Tyrer, Alicia Langley and Maryellen Rossiter. Will the aforementioned girls please get in touch with Maryellen Rossiter, W.I. 4853, today.

Several girls have been asking Dora Proven, Badminton manager, whether it would be possible for them to play in the recreation hall in R.V.C. in the afternoon when it is not otherwise in use. A plan has been devised whereby those girls who are so interested and are not quite of team calibre, and have already taken one Badminton class in the University, may use the Hall. All they have to do is call Dora Proven at DE 3027 and she will make all further arrangements. Incidentally a list is going to be posted this morning in R.V.C. for those to sign who are interested in playing at night.

"En Garde" will once more be heard around R.V.C. on Tuesday October 31 when the coeds will hold their first Fencing Club meeting of the season. Maître Leuchter the new fencing master will be coaching the aspiring fencers. With the response that was given on the R.V.C. notice board it should be a very successful season. For this opening meeting the girls are requested to wear shorts or skirts wide enough to enable them to lunge.

Comes now, some very important news for the Women Students of McGill. On Monday October 23 at 3:30 the McGill Women's Athletic Association will hold their annual tea in the R.V.C. Common room. The Sports managers will give their various reports and two new managers will be elected. All coeds are cordially invited to attend. An amendment to the constitution will be voted upon and as a quorum of fifty is required to pass this amendment, we need all the cooperation we can get.

HARRIERS
More candidates needed to complete the two teams of seven men each to compete in the triangular meet against Dartmouth and Middlebury on November 4th. Anyone interested should report for practice at once.

Discus: Hughes, Owen and Walker; Relay: Mason, Cleary, Borsman, Purdie, Moskowitz and Kirschloger; 880 yards: Cooke, Cowan and Cleary; 1 mile: Cooke, Cowan and Peter; 3 miles: Cooke, Todd and Peter; High Hurdles: Moskowitz, Purdie and Walker; Low Hurdles: Bryant, Kirschloger and Moskowitz; Pole Vault: Walker and McCorkle; High Jump: Bryant, Peck and Percival.

SECONDS TAKE ON WESTMOUNT

Intermediates Encounter West End Junior Outfit

Gordon Young, Star Half-back, Out With Charley-horse

McGill Intermediates will take on the Westmount Junior O.R.F.U. team Saturday in an exhibition affair at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Rather than let his proteges taste the forbidden sweets of idleness when their fixture with St. Lambert's fell through with the latter's resignation from the Q.R.F.U. loop, Coach Buster Fletcher secured a filler with the Westmounts. The ranks of the St. Lambert's team was riddled with injuries sustained by their most important men.

Inflammation to his thigh muscles resulting from a charley horse will keep Gordon Young out of the game for at least two weeks. Blumer and Halliday are expected to alternate in filling up the blank space in the half-line left by the star backfielder, who was acting captain during last week-end's game.

Bruce Russell, the fast flying-wing and all round back fielder will also have to keep to the sidelines because of an irksome back injury. He was injured two weeks ago making a down-field tackle in practice.

The Seniors will be claiming the attentions of Ricky Read, George Muttelbury and Errol Smith when the Red contingent invades London. With the wealth of useful material that he has on hand, the coach should not have much difficulty in filling up the places which the departing stars will leave vacant.

Last year the Westmount outfit took the Junior Championship of Eastern Canada and was runner up in the Dominion finals. Their contribution this year is considered little below its former power and drive. On the other hand McGill's "Queers" have won three straight in spite of numbers depleted by injuries and promotions. The fighting qualities of the Red team were amply demonstrated by the way in which they came from behind to win 9-7 in the muddy affair against Sherbrooke last Saturday.

With two teams of such a calibre matched, the game cannot fail to be well worth watching. Local opinion seems to be in favour of a Red victory, but the outcome is not decided yet by any means.

The game will lead off a double bill program at the Westmount Athletic Grounds of which the feature attraction will be the clash between the Westmount Senior O.R.F.U. entry and the mighty Sarnia Imperials. These two affairs should satisfy the most rabid football fans, even those of the gaudy conscious McGill rooters who are expected to turn out in their usual full force to watch the encounter.

The Intermediates will receive a last pre-game talk at their training table in the Union at six o'clock this evening.

The following is the lineup.
Halves: Morrison, Halliday, Blumer.

Flying wing: Fullerton.
Quarter: Clark.
Snap:
Insides: Alford, Hollinger.
Middles: Nussbaum, Palmer.
Outsides: Moore, Patrick.
Alternates: Moorish, Braun, Neil, Peacock, Clark, Harvie, Grande, Bailey, Madill.

McGILL'S SOCCERITES MEET CADET CHAMPS

Heartened by their smart victory over the Army Medical Corps last Wednesday, McGill's Senior Soccermen travel to Kingston this Saturday to take on the Gentlemen Cadets of R.M.C. in the first game of their annual series.

The Cadets have taken the championship for the last two years but a strong squad of Redmen will be out there Saturday and seem to have a good chance for the title.

Coach Sam Chedzoy, in his first year with a McGill team, has been training his men assiduously and good results have already appeared in the form of greatly improved ball control and shooting. In their games so far the Redmen have also shown that their attacking line seems to have got over last year's distressing habit of doing everything but score.

R.M.C. are said to have lost nine of last year's eleven, partly due to graduation and partly to the War. In contrast practically all of the McGill team returned this year and several bright prospects have been turning out for practices. Among the latter goaler Don Noseworthy has been a standout and it seems that the always strong McGill defence will be better than ever this year. If the forwards can continue the smart combination they have shown up to the present, Captain Vic Hagen should be leading a team that is definitely stronger than that of last year.

Since the championship is decided on a two game total goal basis, McGill will be host to the Cadets on the Upper Campus, Saturday, November 28th. The following is a list of the team to make the trip to Kingston this Saturday—Noseworthy, Laing, Salibus, Molson, Hagen, Thomas, Archer, Northcott, Manning, Gustafson, Carey and one or two spares whose names have not yet been announced.

The team leaves from Bonaventure Station at 9:15 a.m. Saturday.

R.V.C. ARCHERY.

The following girls will represent McGill in the Intercollegiate Telegraphic meet to be held Saturday October 21, from 10-12 a.m. Dorothy Boyce, Myrtle Minto, Allison Cole, Margery Gaunt, Irene Smith, Frances Tyrer, Alicia Langley, Maryellen Rossiter. Will these girls please get in touch with Maryellen Rossiter, W.I. 4853, before Friday night.

WRESTLING

There will be a wrestling practice today at 5:15 in the Montreal High Gym. Men of all weights from 115 up are eligible. No experience is necessary. All those interested please turn up.

POLO TEAM WIN INITIAL GAME

McGill Juniors Beat Knights of Columbus 4-3

Pedvis Scores Three Times —Soper Shines in Nets

The McGill Junior Water Polo Team won their first game from the Knights of Columbus Juniors last night at the K. of C. pool. A close game, it was notable for the star playing of two McGill men, Soper and Pedvis. In goals, Soper blocked superbly and saved the game for the Red team. Pedvis played as forward and centre, and his three sensational scoring shots helped pile up the winning score of 4-3.

In the first and second quarters, McGill kept control of the ball very well, and the play was mostly in enemy territory. Pender scored for the Redmen in the first period on a pass from Hay, and featuring the second was a long shot by Pedvis which caught the K. of C. goalie unprepared.

The third period commenced with a rallying rush by the opposing team which carried the play toward the Red goal, until near whistle time, when Pedvis again picked up the ball near the K. of C. goal to score with a tricky shot.

At the beginning of the last period the McGill players again took command of the ball, and Pedvis made the most sensational shot of the game, a sizzling score from near the centre of the pool that crashed into the enemy net, giving the team a comfortable lead of two points. But the K. of C. team rose to the occasion with a rally that smashed Red defences. Shots rained on the McGill, but the wonderful stopping of Soper saved the day, and only one score penetrated before the final whistle blew.

The team worked together remarkably well after only one week of practice. New players shaped up very nicely, and Alvarez-Calderon was especially outstanding among them. Puc-Gilchrist, Reder, Fry, and Hay played a good game. McGill lineup: W. Soper, A. Puc-Gilchrist, M. Fry, G. Alvarez-Calderon, S. Pedvis, Pender, J. Hay, H. Dundass, and N. Rehder. Knights of Columbus: Griffin, Farrell, Neville, Birmingham, Williams, Clarke, Whalen, Piche, and Hieson. Neville, Farrell and Whalen scored for the K. of C.

"If we dropped out of the Group, we would never regain another franchise and the chance to be on such a team would be denied all future McGill students. if the ground is soggy McGill will only be able to eke out a win by a small score. But the playing field at London never gets soggy because they have a separate practising field. So the game should be wide open. And the Red team which hasn't done any high scoring as yet should come into its own. Because the McGill backfield is a match for the Mustang backfield. If the Med student doesn't go to London, he will be able to listen to the game. CRM at 2. There's also an excursion. Train leaves tonight.

Students Enrolment Surpasses Last Year's

Registration this year has been unusually large, according to reports sent in by the Registrar. The total number of students enrolled for degrees is 2,532. This figure, which does not include the students in the graduates and research departments, surpasses the enrollment of last year by 35. Following are the figures for the separate departments: B.A., 653; B.Sc., 450; B.Com., 194; totals for these three are 1,397. Further, for B.Eng., 477; for B.Arch., 22; total, 479. The faculty of M.D. and C.M. has 450 students and in D.D.S. there are 59. B.C.L., 51; B.S.A., 90; B.H.S., 75; B.L.S., 15; Mus.Bach., six.

TACTICS TOMORROW BY MCGILL CORPS

Divided Companies Work On Defensive Arrangement Of Troops At Rest

McGill's Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, now nearing twelve hundred in number, will engage in their second tactical scheme of the course of training when they assemble on the Campus at two-thirty, tomorrow for a march to Beaver Lake on Mount Royal. In the parklands that surround the body of water, McGill's officers in training will learn how to protect a body of troops at rest, by means of the posting of outposts. The exercise of this work is therefore to be called an "Outpost Scheme," and is a continuation of lessons learnt last Saturday, when the men were instructed in the duties and procedure of an advance guard of troops on the move.

Saturday's scheme will be under the direction of Colonel A. A. Magee, D.S.O., E.D., A.D.C., Acting Officer Commanding the Corps and Honorary Colonel.

Each company will be divided in half, and each half will work out its own scheme under the direction of platoon commanders. They will plan their scheme each opposing the other, but both making a defensive arrangement. Officers will then inspect the provisions made by the man in charge of each scheme, and criticize his plans. Members of one half of a company will then examine the scheme worked out by the opposing half.

WESTERN CONFIDENT

Mustangs Not Injured.

The Mustangs came through the Varsity contest without serious injury. Joe Krol, the Purple Ghost, who was forced to retire in the second quarter, will be in there Saturday and will probably have the McGill tacklers talking to themselves if he pulls off the same kind of break-taking runs he displayed against Toronto and Queen's. The rest of the best backfield in the College Union is in tip top shape. Joe "Bungalow" King tore the vaunted Varsity line to shreds with his smashing plunges and is being counted upon to do the same to the Redmen. Western has two dazzling broken-field runners in Harry Szumlinski and Clem Faust. Szumi played the best game of his career last week and scored two of the Purple's three touchdowns. Wally Hilton powerhouse plunger was not used much against Toronto due to the fact that he was recovering from a rib injury but he is in perfect shape now. Kennedy and Thompson will handle the kicking duties along with Krol. The should be able to give a good account of themselves as they are not opposing Herbie Westman this year. Alf Hurley, one of the most capable field generals in the East will direct the team from his quarterback spot.

Western's line, an unknown quantity before the season opened, has stood up well against the bruisers from Queen's and Toronto. Gord Taylor at snap played a game last Saturday that was reminiscent of the great George Willis. Bert Harris at inside is the only newcomer and he has done much to strengthen the forward wall. The ends, Kent Moore and Wong were stopping Varsity backs in their tracks and helped materially in the Western win.

The Mustangs have not forgotten the November day last year when Westman, Anton, Perowne and Company ended their championship aspirations. Their watchword Saturday will be—Revenge.

'PIT' ELECTIONS

Call for Nominations For Five Representatives

The student committee managing the Pit is calling for nominations for five representatives to be elected to the Pit Committee. Elections will take place in the Pit on Friday, October 28. These representatives will include two women, two men and one representative of the resident of Strathcona Hall. Nomination papers must be signed by five people, and be handed to the cashier in the pit by six o'clock Monday, October 22. The Student Co-operative Restaurant, familiarly known as the Pit, enters its seventh year of operations in the basement of Strathcona Hall. It was founded by a group of students who wished to provide students with a place to buy inexpensive meals of good quality, and a chance to share in any profits through dividends on meal cards.

Faculty of Arts and Science Notice

The following regulations concerning the credit for work in the C.O.T.C. have been passed by the Faculty and approved by Senate:

"That students taking courses in the McGill C.O.T.C. for the Lieutenant's certificate and/or for the Captain's certificate may have either of these courses included in any one year on their registration cards as an elective course. Students in the third and fourth years taking advantage of this authorized privilege are required to have the consent of the Dean and, in the case of honours students of the Department concerned."

Students who have been enrolled and accepted in the C.O.T.C. and who wish to avail themselves of the privilege granted in these regulations are requested to report to the Dean's office without delay in order to make the adjustment of their courses in accordance with the regulations.

Those who registered for Military Science as an elective course displacing an elective in their year need do nothing more under these regulations.

C. W. Hendel, Dean.

McGill Sketching Club

Exhibition open to all. Drawings from all faculties wanted. All those wishing to contribute should get in touch with Stuart McNab at MA. 2055 before Saturday. Exhibition will include oil paintings, water colours and pencil drawings. Special feature will be sketches of French Canada made by the architectural students during the summer school.

McGILL UNIVERSITY CONTINGENT

(148th Battalion C.E.F.)

CANADIAN OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

In order to permit completion of the organization of the Contingent enrollment will cease October 23rd, 1939.

The Regular Course for training as a Lieutenant in Cavalry and Armoured Cars, Machine Guns, Infantry, Air Force, Artillery, Engineers and Signals will end about 31st March, 1940, and will consist of Parades on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 5:15 o'clock and on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, or on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock and on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Parades are approximately two hours each and are subject to change to meet weather and other conditions.

A Special Course will be established for members whose academic studies do not permit six hours per week military training. This Special Course will be for training as Lieutenant and will end about 31st March, 1941, and will consist of one evening Parade and Saturday afternoon. The training in this special course will be "Common to all Arms" until 31st March, 1940. Thereafter undergraduates may select and be trained in courses for other arms provided instructional facilities are then available.

For Senior Students in Medicine, a Special Course for qualification as a Lieutenant in the C.A.M.C., will be established and will consist of one evening Parade and Saturday afternoon and will end about 31st March, 1940.

For Senior Students in Engineering and Science, a Special Course, ending about 31st March, 1940, will be established, and will consist of one evening Parade and Saturday afternoon, provided they select some Specialist Branch of the Service which does not require six hours per week military training.

The above Special Courses will be established only if numbers justify it. Enrollment and election for the Special Courses will end October 23rd, 1939.

G. A. GRIMSON,
Major & Adjutant.

C.O.T.C. CREDIT

The University announces that academic credit for efficient service in the O.T.C. will be granted by the various faculties for the session 1939-40 as follows:

Faculty of Arts and Science — Students taking courses in the McGill C.O.T.C. for the Lieutenant's certificate and/or for the Captain's certificate may have either of these courses included in any one year on their registration cards as an elective course. Students in the third and fourth years taking advantage of this authorized privilege are required to have the consent of the Dean and, in the case of honours students, of the Departments concerned.

Faculty of Engineering — The Faculty has reduced the number of hours in the regular First Year curriculum by three to enable students in this year to take O.T.C. work. In the upper years the Faculty has announced concessions in the various courses amounting generally to three lecture or laboratory hours per week.

Faculty of Law — No concessions are granted in the First or Second Year but the Faculty may, in special cases, waive the thesis requirement in the Third Year.

Faculty of Agriculture — No concessions are offered in the First or Second Year. In the Third and Fourth Year efficient O.T.C. work will be counted as one full course.

Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry — It has not been found possible to make any concessions in these faculties.

Full details are published on the various notice boards.

T. H. Matthews,
Registrar.

JUNGLE MOVIE TONE FOR COSMOS CLUB

"Beyond Bengal" — a full-length talkie — ushers in the first seasonal meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club tonight at 8:30 in Strathcona Hall.

Fun and friendship will be the key note as newcomers to this club rub shoulders with members coming from Czechoslovakia and British Guiana, India, the West Indies and Russia.

This year's president, Ainsworth Scott, and his executive Hugh Lamb, Ariadne Serbinova, John Doull, Joan Edwards and Joe Salibus, anticipate a successful year. This is the third season since Cosmos Club was inaugurated and anyone with thirty-five cents and an interest in seeing the primitive struggles of men and beasts are welcome.

Refreshments and dancing will conclude the evening's entertainment.

COLD FACTS
for a Warm Winter!

EATON'S has
A COAT
A STYLE
A PRICE
For every Preference

This year the big majority of Montreal men when buying their winter overcoat, will choose Elysian and dress coatings. These men will split about even in colour choice. BUT—here are a few facts for you—we've got THEIR coats—a huge range of Elysians and dress coatings—and, coats for the rest of the men too! Burly ulsters and raglans—smart fitted and guard styles—distinctive senator models. Tailored from fine woollens—herringbones, silver-tones, tweeds, velours, fleeces. Both domestic and English makes—including the famous Joseph May & Son and Burberry English overcoats.

Plan a visit to EATON'S today. Check this tremendous variety. See why we say "There's a coat on our racks for YOU."

Domestic Coats from 25.00 to 75.00
English Coats from 45.00 to 75.00
